
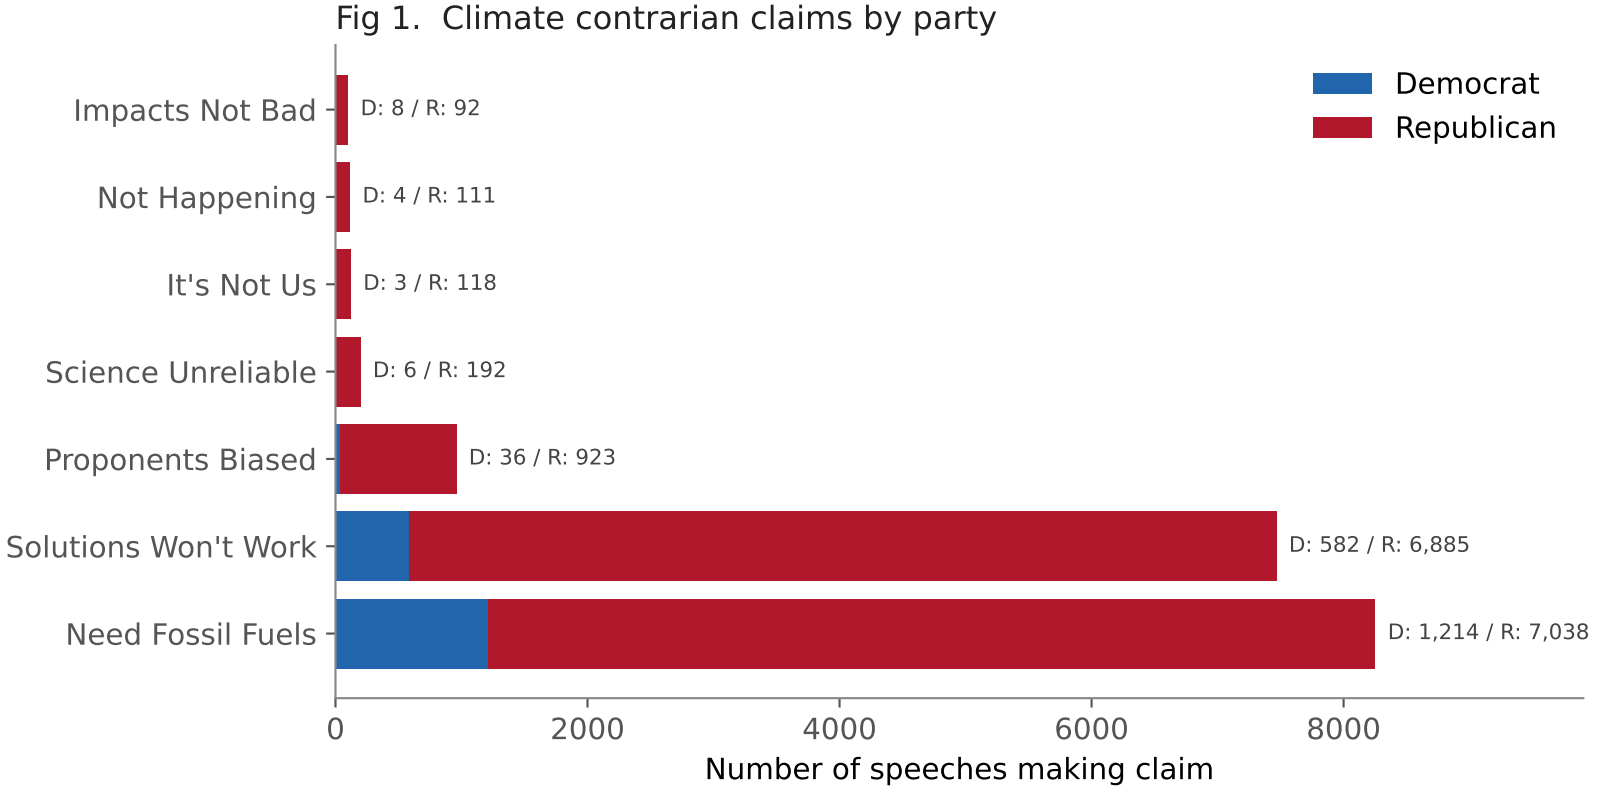

Fig 1. Climate contrarian claims by party
Democrat
Republican
Impacts Not Bad
D: 8 / R: 92
Not Happening
D: 4 / R: 111
It's Not Us
D: 3 / R: 118
Science Unreliable
D: 6 / R: 192
Proponents Biased
D: 36 / R: 923
Solutions Won't Work
D: 582 / R: 6,885
Need Fossil Fuels
D: 1,214 / R: 7,038
0
2000
4000
6000
8000
Number of speeches making claim

Fig 2. The partisan gap widens over time

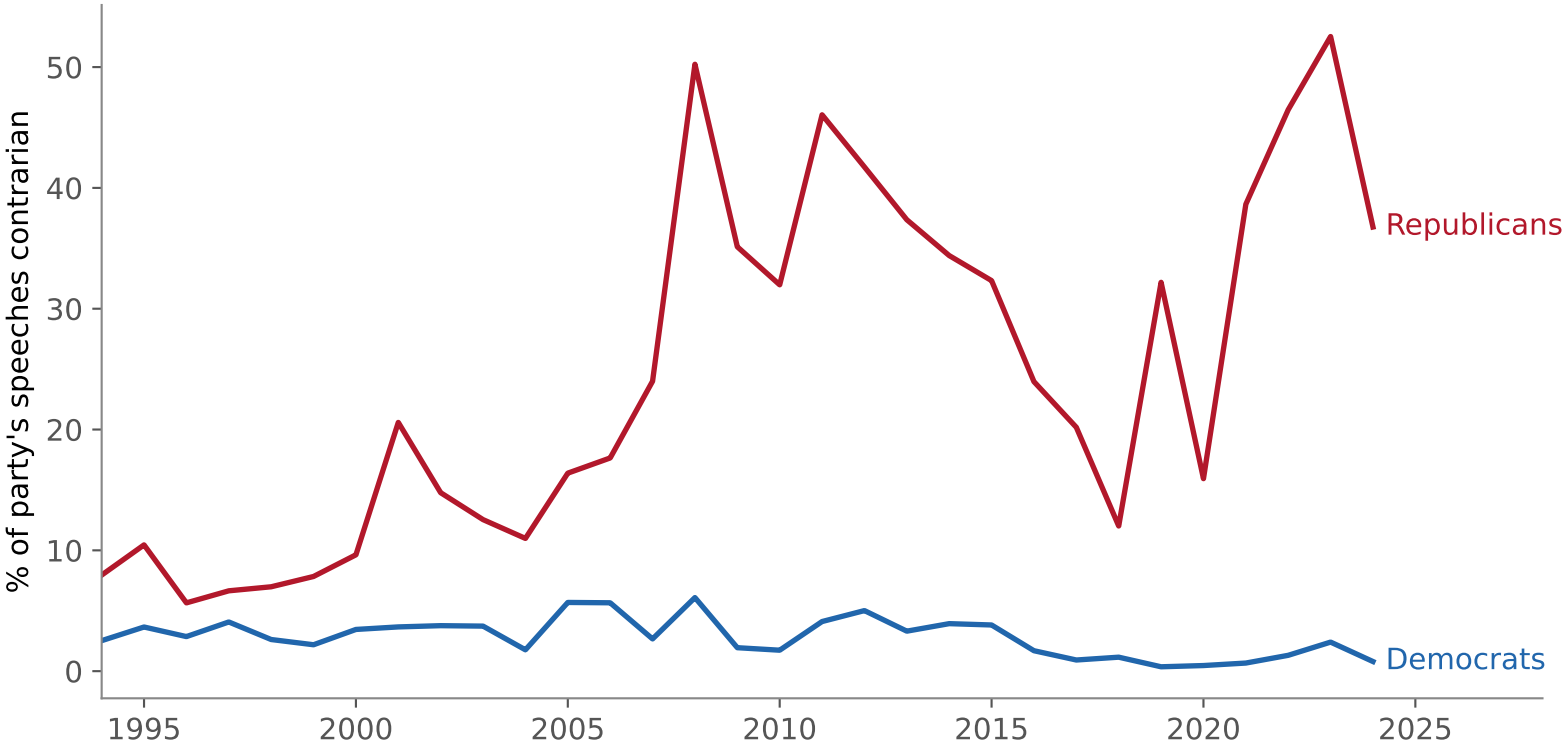

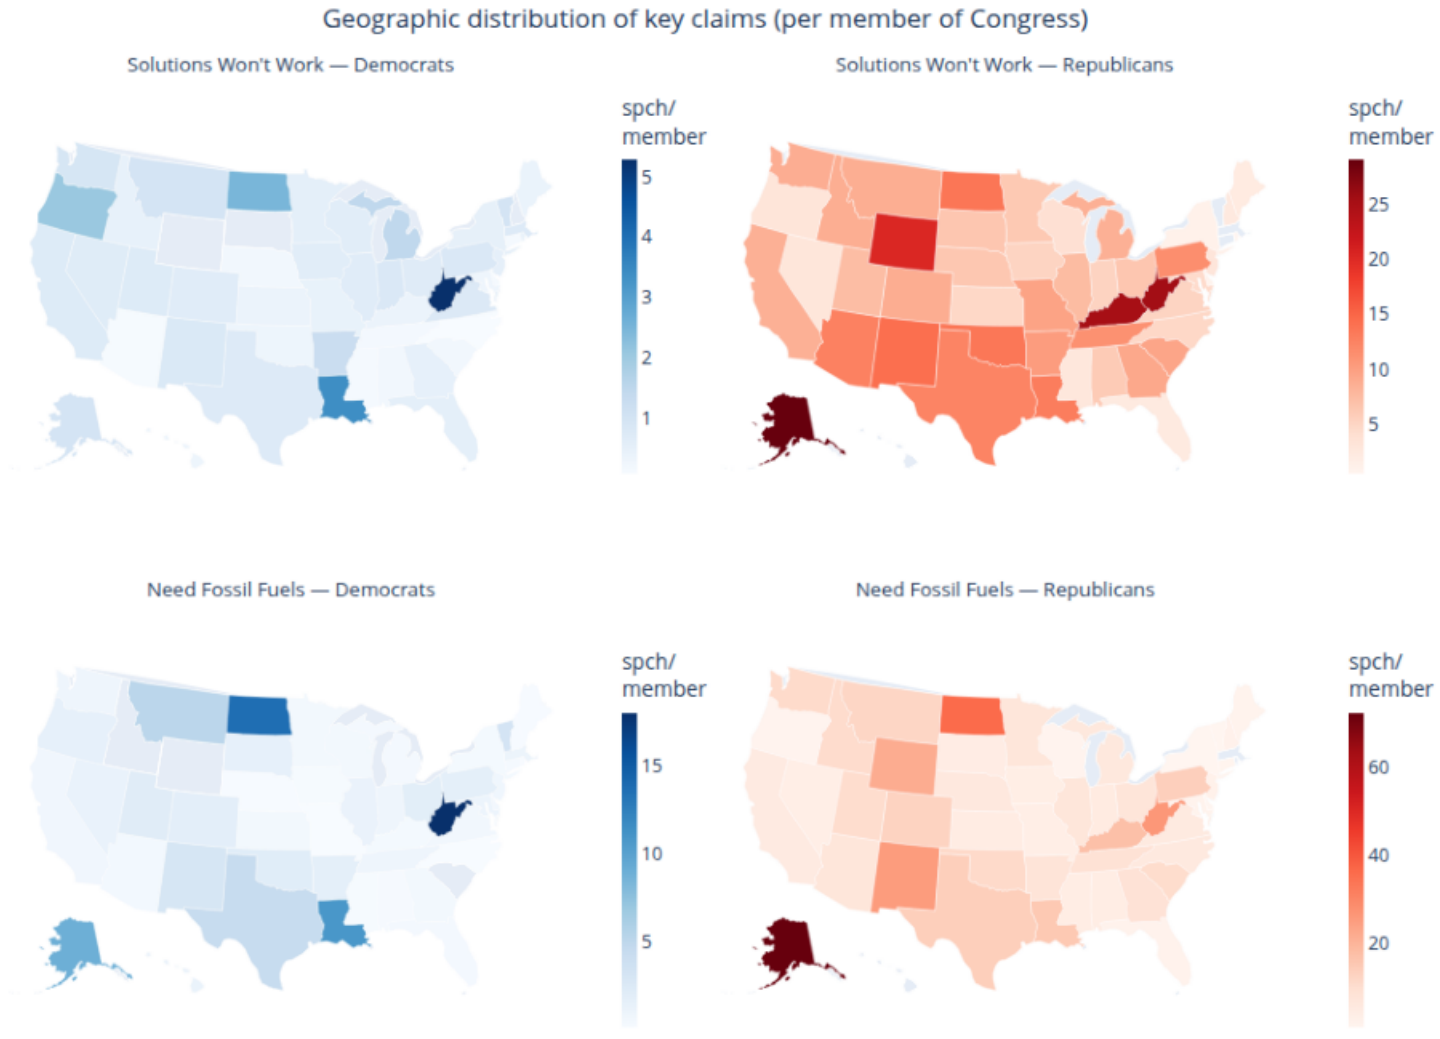

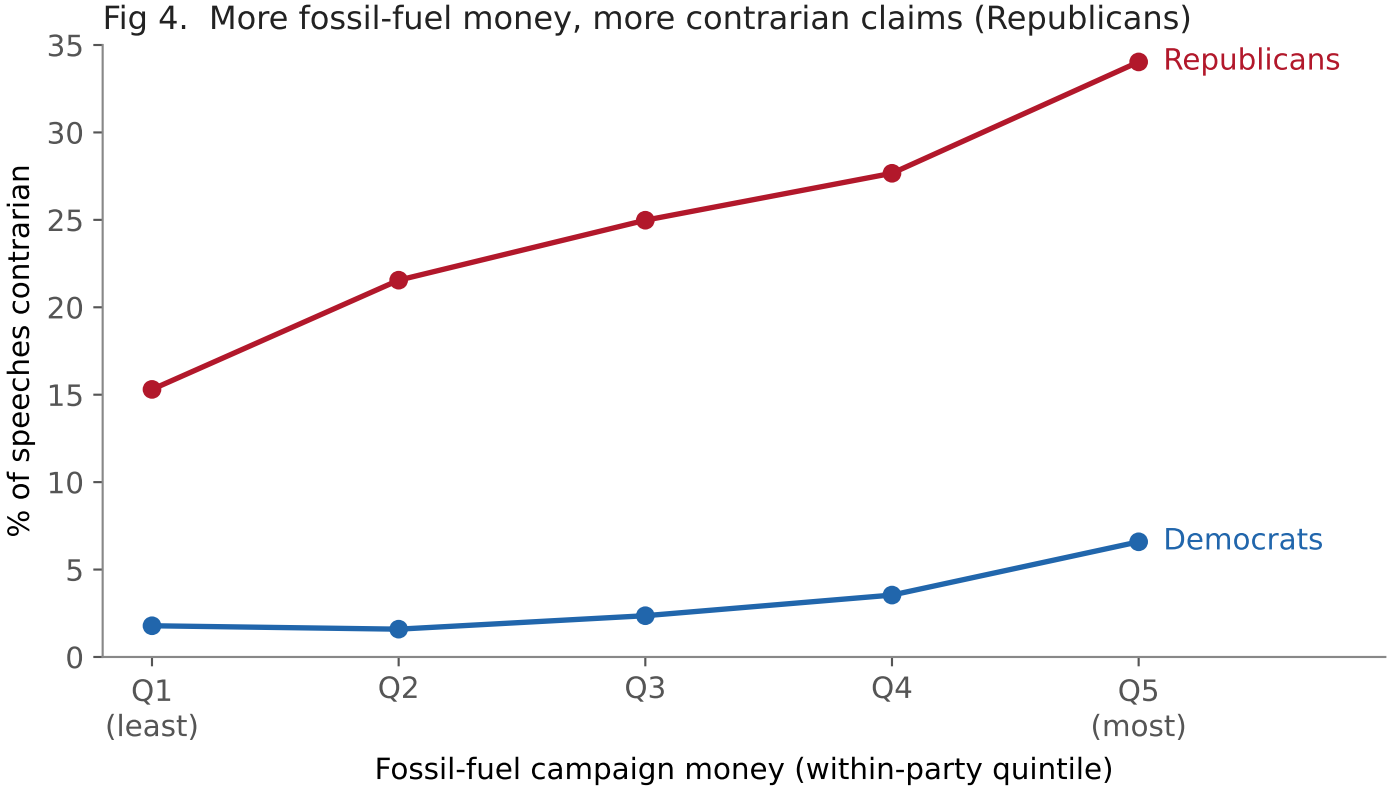

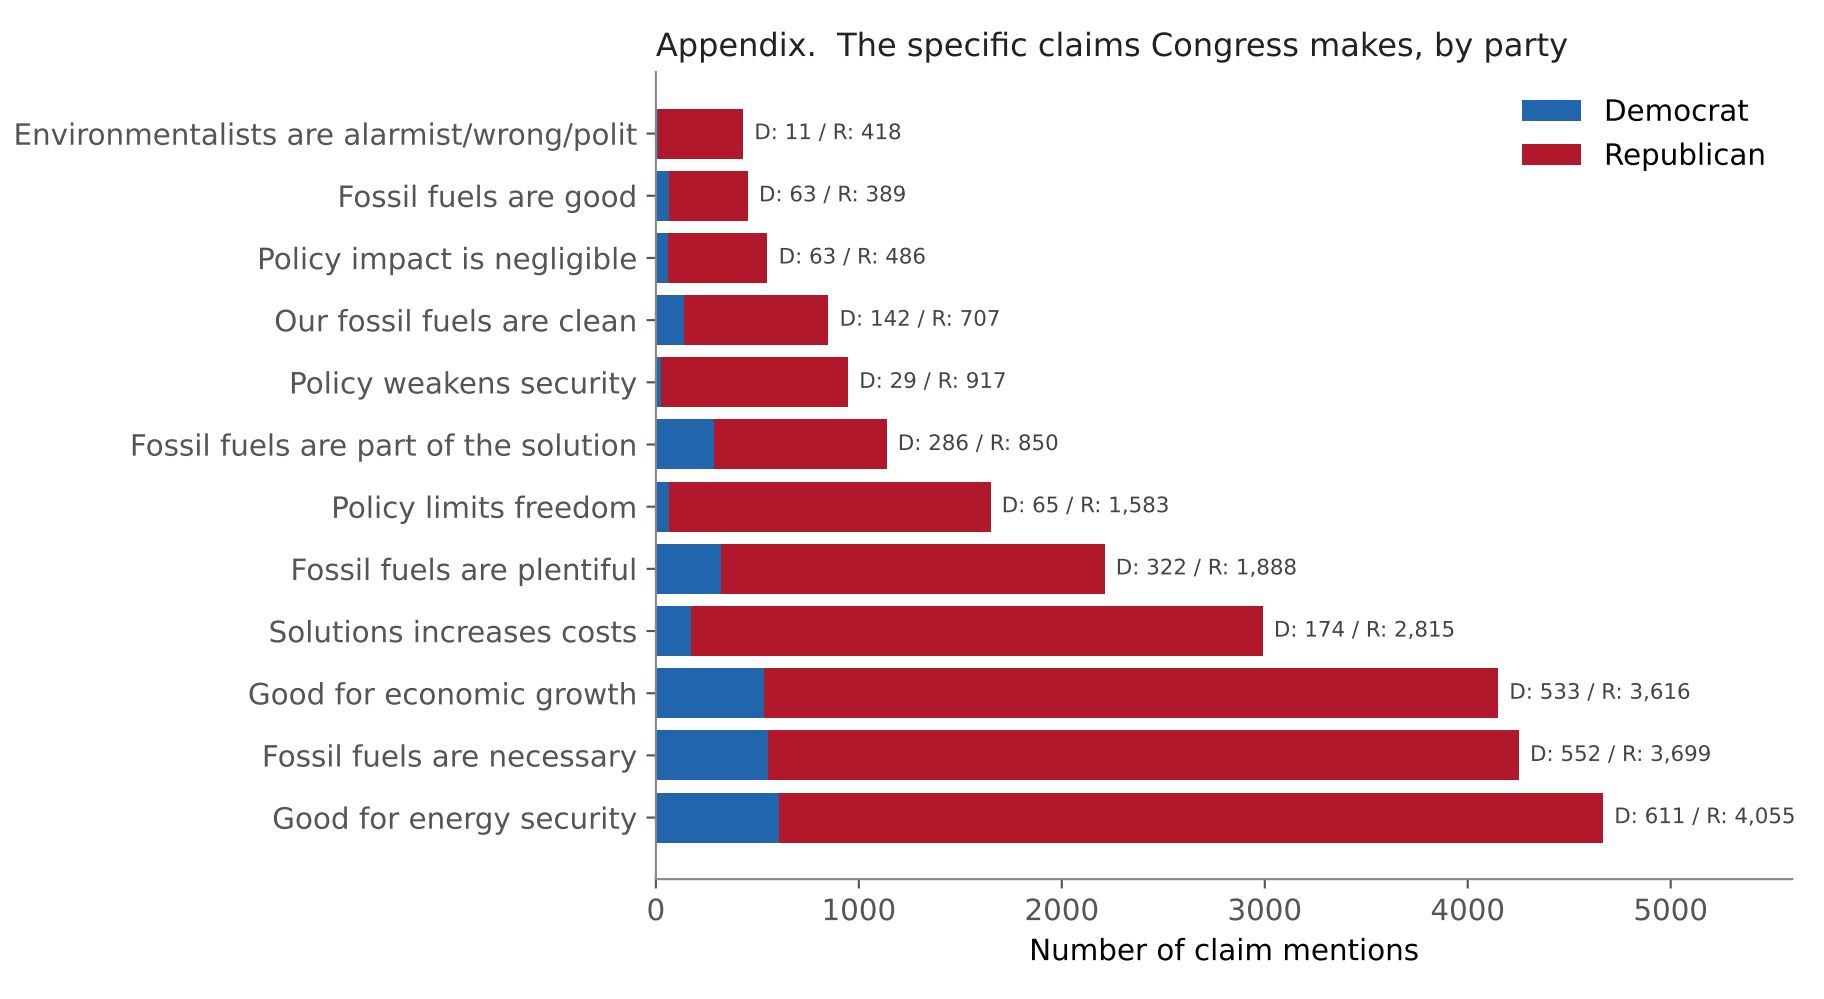

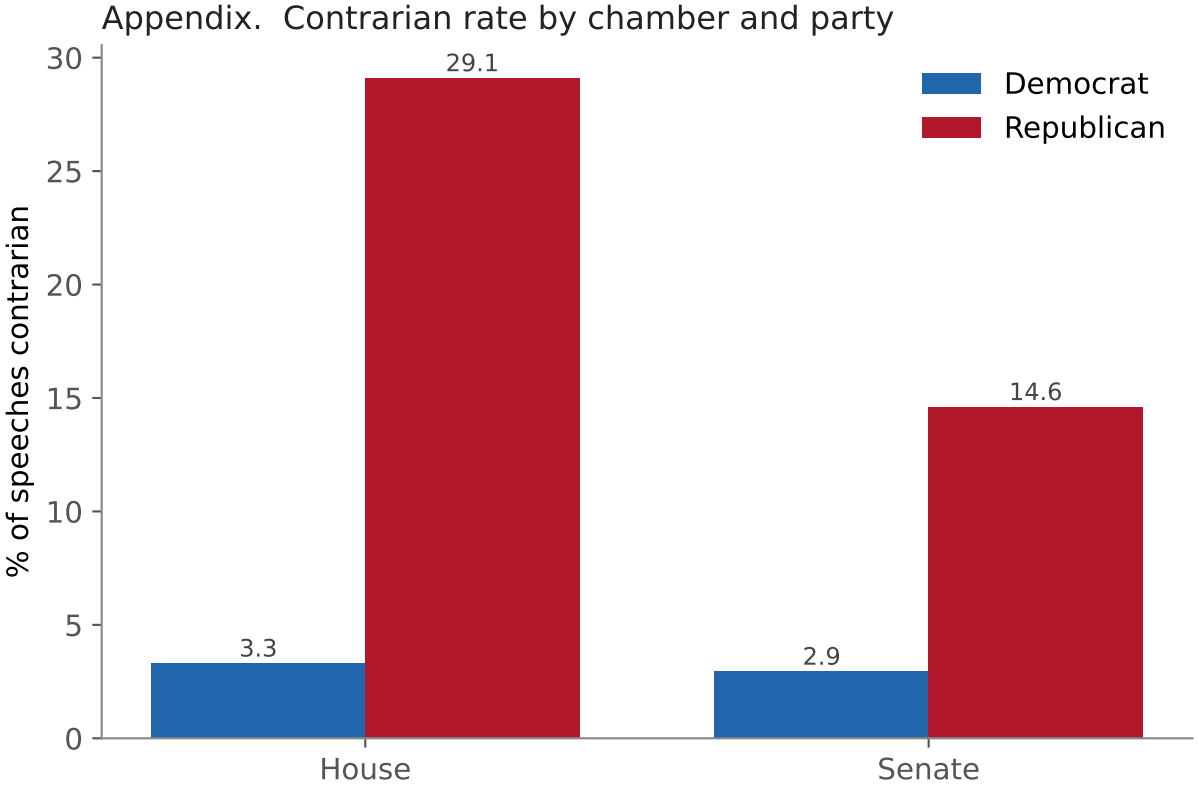

Fig 3. Geographic distribution of key claims, by party

Fig 4. More fossil-fuel money, more contrarian claims (Republicans)
% of speeches contrarian
35
30
25
20
15
10
5
0
Republicans
Democrats
Q1
(least)
Q2
Q3
Q4
Q5
(most)
Fossil-fuel campaign money (within-party quintile)

Appendix. The specific claims Congress makes, by party
Democrat
Republican
Environmentalists are alarmist/wrong/polit
D: 11 / R: 418
Fossil fuels are good
D: 63 / R: 389
Policy impact is negligible
D: 63 / R: 486
Our fossil fuels are clean
D: 142 / R: 707
Policy weakens security
D: 29 / R: 917
Fossil fuels are part of the solution
D: 286 / R: 850
Policy limits freedom
D: 65 / R: 1,583
Fossil fuels are plentiful
D: 322 / R: 1,888
Solutions increases costs
D: 174 / R: 2,815
Good for economic growth
D: 533 / R: 3,616
Fossil fuels are necessary
D: 552 / R: 3,699
Good for energy security
D: 611 / R: 4,055
0
1000
2000
3000
4000
5000
Number of claim mentions

Appendix. Contrarian rate by chamber and party
% of speeches contrarian
30
25
20
15
10
5
0
29.1
14.6
3.3
2.9
Democrat
Republican
House
Senate